Musicians & Larsen Strings: in Concert

Working together with you to develop & perfect our strings

Robert Pulvertaft, Braimah Kanneh-Mason, Dr Thomas Zweg, Konya Kanneh-Mason, Justin Wagstaff, Florian Leonhard, Sheku Kanneh-Mason, Ole Wichmann

We have been on tour extensively during this past year including visits to the Cello Festival at Rutesheim Academy, to Kronberg Academy for the Cello Masterclass & Concert Series & to the USA for the International Violin Competition of Indianapolis.

Most recently we have had the pleasure of working with the exceptionally talented Kanneh-Mason family. We met up with Konya, Sheku and Braimah in London and spent a most informative morning discussing and testing different violin & cello combinations.

Konya & Braimah now both play on variants of Il Cannone with Sheku's Amati now fitted with Magnacore & some new prototypes. More on this in the new year.

Our thanks to Florian Leonhard Fine Violins for their hospitality.

Johannes Wildner & Sønderjyllands Symphony Orchestra

We are pleased to announce that we will be exclusively sponsoring the appointment of Johannes Wildner as Chief Conductor at the Sønderjyllands Symphony Orchestra to commence from the 2019-2020 season and for the subsequent two seasons until June 2022.

Panfili, Maggini & Il Cannone, a powerful combination.

A sample of our advertisement featuring Rusanda Panfili which will be running in the January edition of The Strad.

Rusanda was closely involved in the evolution of Il Cannone as were many other violinists both professional players and students learning their craft. It is through this hands-on trialling process that we are able to identify the perfect blend to bring to market.
